Election/Restrictions

Restriction to one of the following inventions is required under 35 U.S.C. 121:

- I. Claims 20-24, drawn to a stapling kit having first and second loading units having different stroke lengths, classified in class 227, subclass 176.1.
- II. Claims 25-31, drawn to a loading unit for a stapler comprising an actuator, a drive beam including a camming member cooperating with the actuator for closing an anvil, classified in class 227, subclass 175.1.
- III. Claim 32, drawn to a method of stapling including applying a first array of staples with a first loading unit, and applying a second different array of staples using a second loading unit, classified in class 606, subclass 219.

The inventions are distinct, each from the other because of the following reasons:

Inventions of Group I and Group III are related as process and apparatus for its practice. The inventions are distinct if it can be shown that either: (1) the process as claimed can be practiced by another materially different apparatus or by hand, or (2) the apparatus as claimed can be used to practice another and materially different process. (MPEP § 806.05(e)). In this case the method could be utilized using loading units of the same length, or to apply a single staple in each applying step.

Inventions of Group II and Group III are related as process and apparatus for its practice. The inventions are distinct if it can be shown that either: (1) the process as claimed can be practiced by another materially different apparatus or by hand, or (2) the apparatus as claimed can be used to practice another and materially different process. (MPEP § 806.05(e)). In this case the method could be utilized with a surgical stapler with virtually any actuation means. Further, Group II could be used in a single stapling operation.

Inventions of Group I and Group II are unrelated. Inventions are unrelated if it can be shown that they are not disclosed as capable of use together and they have different modes of operation, different functions, or different effects (MPEP § 806.04, MPEP § 808.01). In the instant case the different inventions rely upon particulars for patentability which are not set forth in the other groups. Specifically, Group I claims the plural loading units, which are not set forth in Group II. Group II claims the details of the actuator and drive beam and camming roller, which are not set forth in Group I

Because these inventions are distinct for the reasons given above and have acquired a separate status in the art as shown by their different classification and because of their recognized divergent subject matter,, restriction for examination purposes as indicated is proper.

A telephone call was made to Mr. Trainor on August 8, 2001 to request an oral election to the above restriction requirement, but did not result in an election being made.

Applicant is advised that the reply to this requirement to be complete must include an election of the invention to be examined even though the requirement be traversed (37 CFR 1.143).

Applicant is reminded that upon the cancellation of claims to a non-elected invention, the inventorship must be amended in compliance with 37 CFR 1.48(b) if one or more of the currently named inventors is no longer an inventor of at least one claim remaining in the application. Any amendment of inventorship must be accompanied by a petition under 37 CFR 1.48(b) and by the fee required under 37 CFR 1.17(i).
